The KSA has been supporting people in the UK with Klinefelter's Syndrome (KS), and their families and friends, since 1990. Our members are about as diverse as in any other support group; as well as those with Klinefelter's Syndrome themselves, we have parents, grandparents, wives, brothers, sisters, carers and friends.

Our aim is to assist everyone who comes into contact with KS. Of course, that goes beyond those who live with KS everyday, this could be a teacher searching for ways put together an action plan for a boy with KS, a doctor seeking to put a patient in contact with someone with more experience, or anyone else who needs to know more.

We support Adults (& their partners) as well as Children (& their families) who have Klinefelter's Syndrome (KS) and its variants. Our Members come from all over the UK and Ireland. We are both a source of information and a self-help Support Group. Members have the luxury of being able to meet others with similar experiences, to share what we have learned and then learn more together.
